To whom it may concern,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to share my experience with Veronika's performance, a member of our team at Kiwi.com. During her time as a Product Design Lead, I had the privilege of working closely with her in my role as VP of Product.

I want to highlight Veronika's consistent display of a combination of users' empathy and contribution to the business goals. Throughout her time in our domain, she skillfully managed to take over an existing team of product designers and participated in domain leadership with the product and engineering counterparts, which was truly commendable.

One thing I've always considered crucial in my team members is open-mindedness and the ability to change their opinions, and Veronika never disappointed. A clear instance of this was when she successfully found a way of working in the leadership team, representing the needs of the customers and the product design's good practices.
In addition to her professional attributes, I must say that Veronika is a pleasure to work alongside and talk to.

Should you have any queries about Veronika, please don't hesitate to contact me via my e-mail address [redacted].

Thank you,
Michal Šindelář,
VP of Product, Kiwi.com
